People who changed sports: DICK FOSBURY

Like many American teenagers, Dick Fosbury wanted to be a professional athlete, but he had a problem – he wasn't very good at any sport. He didn't play soccer well, and although he was tall, he wasn't a very good basketball player either. When he tried track and field, his results still weren't great, but he found that he had some talent for the high jump.

At that time, there were two popular styles of jumping over the bar. There was the scissors, where the athlete lifted one leg first and then the other over the bar, and there was the straddle, where the athlete went over the bar in a lying position, face down. Fosbury used the straddle. The best height he could jump was 1.63 m. It wasn't bad, but it was a long way from the Olympic record of 2.23 m.

One afternoon, Fosbury decided to do something completely different. He took off backwards and jumped over the bar on his back, face up. The results were amazing. That day he improved his personal best by 15 cm. In the following years, he spent all his time practicing, getting better and better. He was starting to win competitions, but most people were confused by his strange style. A year before the 1968 Olympics, he was the number 61 jumper in the world, and he was lucky to get on the US Olympic team.

When he arrived in Mexico, not many people knew his name. On the day of the high jump final, he walked on to the field with all the other jumpers. As the competition started, the 80,000 people in the crowd began to notice that one of the jumpers had a very strange style. At first they thought it was funny and laughed each time Fosbury jumped over the bar. After nearly four hours there were only three jumpers left. The crowd wasn't laughing at Fosbury any more – they were cheering him on. The bar was at 2.24 m – a new Olympic record. The other two jumpers knocked it off but Fosbury flew over. The gold medal was his.

Dick Fosbury was now famous all over the world and his Fosbury flop changed forever the way that high jumpers jumped.

READING

1 Read the article. Match photos 1–3 with the names of the high jump styles in italics.

2 Read the article again. Answer the questions.

0 Why did Fosbury choose to do the high jump?

Because it was the only sport that he was good at.

1 How high could he jump on the day he invented his new style?

2 What did people first think about his new style?

3 How good was he at the high jump in 1967?

4 Was he the favorite to win the gold medal in the Olympics? Explain your answer.

5 How do people remember Dick Fosbury today?

3 CRITICAL THINKING What does the story about Dick Fosbury tell us? Choose the best answer.

- 1 Lots of people can win an Olympic gold medal and break a world record.
- 2 Believe in yourself and don't let other people discourage you.
- 3 You must start a sport when you are a child to become a champion.
- 4 High jumping is a good choice for people who aren't very good at sports.

4 CRITICAL THINKING Why do you think Dick Fosbury was successful? Put the ideas in order of importance for you.

- ☐ He wanted to be a sports champion.
- ☐ His new way of jumping was very good.
- ☐ He trained and practiced a lot.
- ☐ He didn't worry when people laughed at him.

An article

1 INPUT Read the text. Where do you think it comes from?

- A A newspaper ☐ B A school magazine ☐ C A travel website ☐ D A story book ☐

How I got into MOUNTAIN BIKING

By Caitlin Rogers

It was all because of my best friend, Zara. We were having lunch one day when ¹☐. I didn't have my own bike at that time, but Zara lent me her old one. We went to a forest that she knew very well and we got on our bikes. I was soon riding up and down the hills and it felt great! And guess what? ²☐. It's the same as riding a normal bike – you are just riding on paths instead of on the road.

I asked for a bike for my birthday ³☐. Now I ride every weekend. Sometimes we get a little wet and dirty, but I don't mind. ⁴☐. So, if you like doing exercise and being outside, maybe mountain biking is for you, too!

2 ANALYZE Read the text again and complete it with the missing sentences. Write A–D in the boxes.

- A It's all part of the fun
B You don't have to go fast
C and then I joined the local club
D she invited me to go mountain biking with her

3 PLAN Choose ONE of these topics for an article and make notes in the plan.

- A sports match between your school and another one
- A school trip
- How you started a new sport

WRITING TIP: an article

An article is a piece of writing in a newspaper, magazine, or on a website.

- Think about your readers. Who are they? What are they interested in?
- You can use informal language in an article.
- You can speak to the readers directly. For example, you might want to ask a question or make a suggestion.
- Don't just write about facts. Describe what the experience was like and how you felt.
- Use some adjectives and adverbs to make your writing interesting.

TITLE: _____

PARAGRAPH 1: Set up the situation (e.g., time, place).

PARAGRAPH 2: Describe what happened.

PARAGRAPH 3: Describe how the situation ended and/or give your opinion.

4 PRODUCE Write your article for a school magazine (about 120–140 words). Use your notes from Exercise 3.

- Research some interesting facts and trivia.
- Organize your essay into three or four short paragraphs.
- Try to write exactly 150 words.

ALL YOU NEED TO KNOW ABOUT THE OLYMPIC GAMES IN 150 WORDS

- A London is the only city to hold the Games three times (in 1908, 1948, and 2012). The US held them four times but in three different cities.
- B At the Paris Games in 1900, there were more athletes than spectators. The oldest athlete ever at the games was Sweden's Oscar Swahn. He won a silver medal in shooting in 1920 at the age of 72. The youngest medal winner was Inge Sorensen from Denmark. She was 12 when she won a bronze medal in swimming.
- C In the first modern Olympic Games, in Athens in 1896, there were no gold medals. The winners all got silver medals. In the 1900 Games, the winners got trophies instead of medals. Winners first got gold medals in the 1904 Olympics in St. Louis, US.
- D And finally, the longest name for an Olympic champion was Prapawadee Jaroenrattanakoon from Thailand. She won a gold medal in weightlifting.
